FR L E L E E

The 2008-2008 Fond du Lac Ojibwe
School yearbook is dedicated to:

Roberta Welper

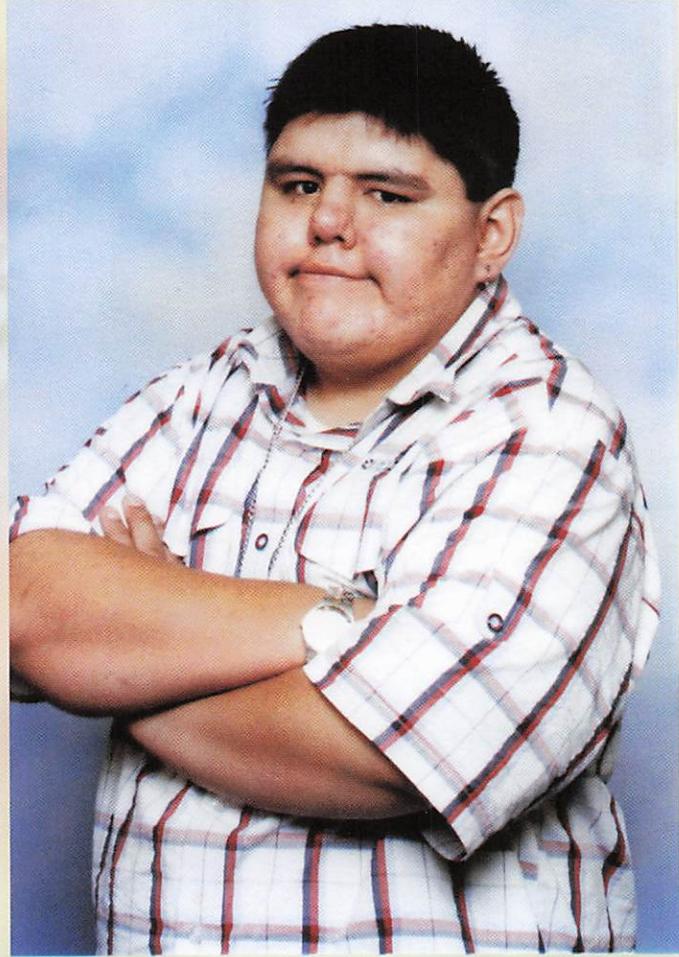

We dedicate the 2008 Ojibwe School Yearbook to Roberta Welper. We thank her for her many accomplishments in the improvement of after-school programs for our young learners. Her tireless efforts will be evident for years to come; she has made a difference.

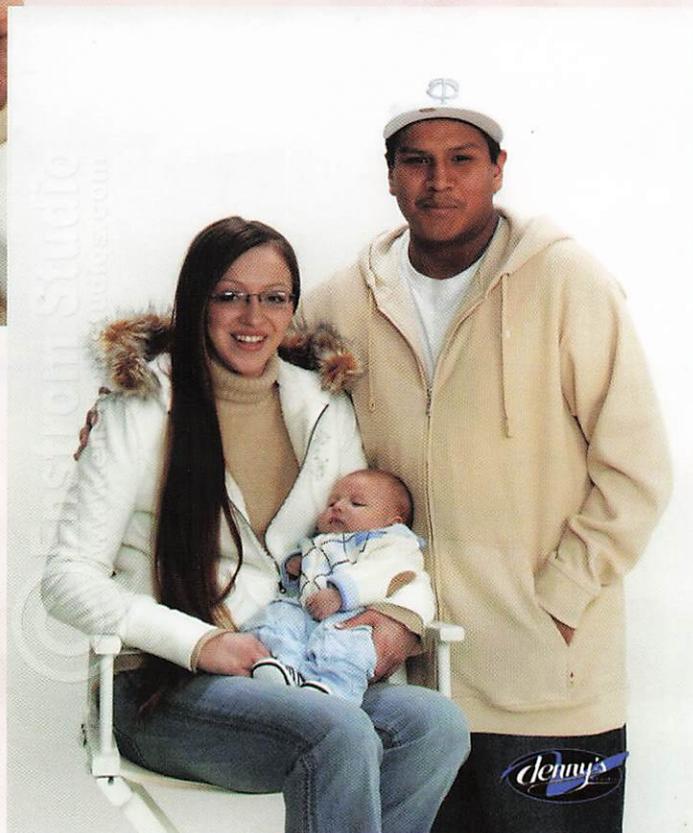

We wish her well in her future endeavors.

Miigwetch Roberta!

Making Good Choices

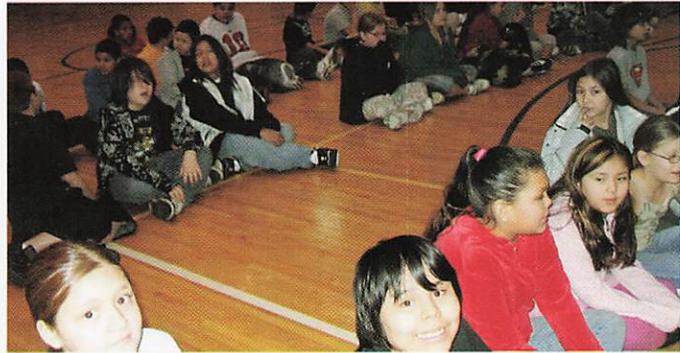

Bethany and Josie are on their way back to class after seeing the anti-tobacco performance.

The elementary students attended a program discouraging them from using tobacco.

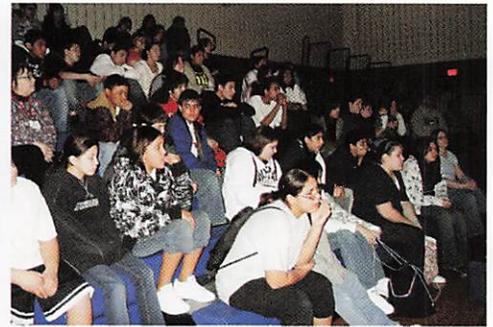

Dallas, Garrett, and Nakyle are heading back to class filled with knowledge on how tobacco companies encourage people to smoke.

Janessa, Winona, Brehna, Jocelyn, Arrowanna, and Jasmine are waiting for the performance to begin. The 6th grade class is in the background.

GIKINOOAMAADAG PLAYERS

Using What You Learn

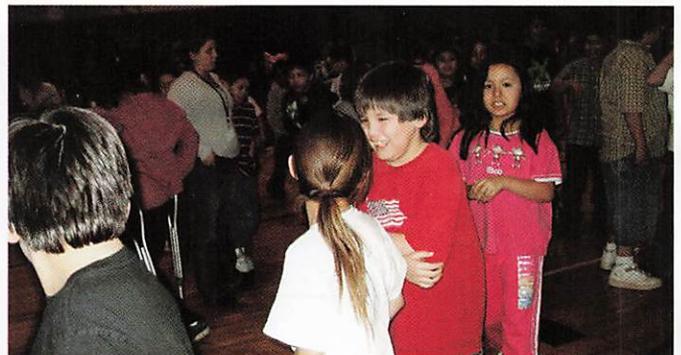

The 7th-12th grade students are waiting for the performance to begin.

Joy Rivera brought a group of high school students to a performance for the elementary on tobacco and one for the high school on HIV/AIDS.

Powwow Cookin'

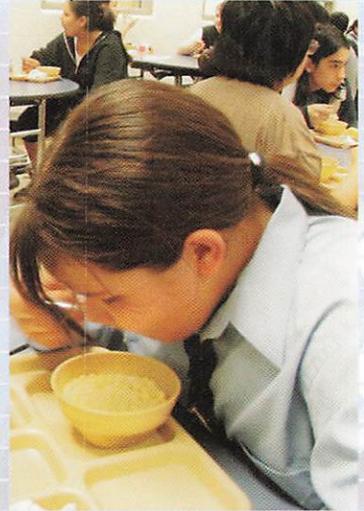

These four high schools students from the Twin Cities area are from different reservation in Minnesota. They were performing "Powwow Cookin'" which is a play about 4 teenagers at a powwow who meet. Their actions at the powwow caused one of them to fear for her life. It was a great performance.

Great Performance!

The students enjoyed the performance. Now they are getting ready to go back to class.
