Good things come to those who wait...

This phrase comes to mind when it comes to building a new Fond du Lac Ojibwe School. In 1992 Tom Peacock wrote a proposal to the Bureau of Indian Affairs for the New School Construction. As a result of this proposal, the Fond du Lac Ojibwe School was placed #14 on a national waiting list with other tribal schools. In 1996 Fond du Lac Ojibwe School was awarded over half a million dollars for Planning and Design which will be completed by Summer 1999.

The good news is that Fond du Lac is included in the Bureau of Indian Affairs and President Clinton's budgets for the new school construction in the Fiscal Year 2000. The doors of the new school could open by the Fall of 2001 if funding is approved by Congress.

The Education and Planning Divisions are busy making sure we will be ready when the funding arrives. The site for the new school is between the Little Black Bear Elementary School and the Ojibwe School.

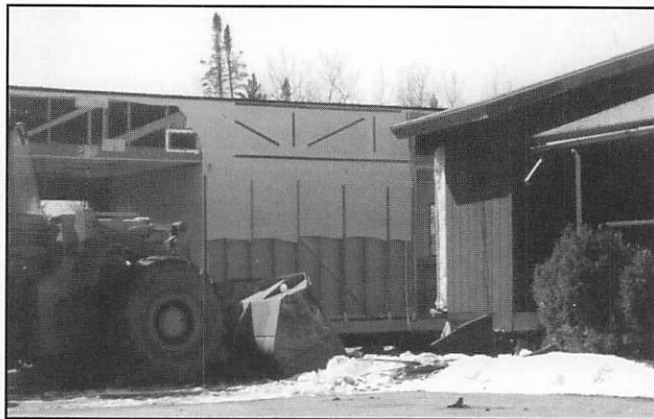

The plan includes media centers for elementary and high school, vocational education space, a fully equipped science lab and art room, computer labs, kitchen & cafeteria, gym and playgrounds.

New School Planning Committee Members
Dennis Olson, Gary Harmes,
Randy Wagner, John Erickson,
Michael Rabideaux, Dan Anderson, Kim Granberg,
Sara Montgomery, & Mindy Jezierski
